JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1869.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Having given this document a more careful reading than we had done when we first alluded to it, we are led to the conclusion that it is more remarkable for what it does not say than for what it does say—for what it conceals, than for what it reveals. We propose to allude to some of the points on which it touches, and also to some on which it fails to touch, altogether, or refers to very slightly and unsatisfactorily.

His Excellency informs the Legislature and the public that the aggregate amount of the "old debt" is $17,215,045, and that of the new debt, $12,600,000, to which is to be added, for appropriations made but bonds not issued, $4,280,000; making a grand total of the debt of the State of $34,095,045. The Governor says not a word of the injustice done to the holders of the old bonds of the State by entirely neglecting to make provision for paying the interest on them, while a large new debt has been created and a special tax levied to pay the interest on that. He says, "the interest on the special tax bonds is being paid." This is very indefinite. How much of it has been paid? Will it all be paid? But the Governor "regrets to state that the Treasurer has been unable to meet the interest on the old bonds;" and says, it will be necessary to fund the interest on the old bonds. Now we would ask, in all candor, with what grace the Legislature can ask a holder of the old State bonds to take his interest, that is, to fund his coupons, in new bonds, worth, as these bonds are, thirty-seven cents in the dollar, while, at the same time, the State is paying, in cash, the full interest on the new bonds which cost the holder only thirty seven cents to fifty cents in the dollar? Talk about the sin of repudiation, and the maintenance of the State's credit and integrity! We should like to know what the world will say of such unjust discrimination—of such sustaining of the integrity of the State! The Governor gives us no light on the subject; he seems to have no opinion on the matter, at all.

But, the Governor says, "We are able to meet the interest on the whole of this debt," and gives the stimulating example of Pennsylvania to sustain the declaration. The special taxes required to pay the interest on the new debt, is, if we mistake not, forty two cents on the hundred dollars. If we are correct in this, (and we are sure we have not put it too high,) then, to pay the interest on both the old and new bonds will require a tax, for this purpose alone, of about eighty-five cents on the hundred dollars worth of property. To this must be added whatever is necessary for other State purposes, such as building the penitentiary; keeping up the Asylums; paying the Legislature and State officers, maintaining schools, (if we are ever to have any,) and the hundred other drains upon the State Treasury which are annually made on it. In other words, it will increase the present burdensome tax, about fifty per cent. But the Governor says we can stand it.

There are two suggestions in this part of the message of His Excellency that we find much difficulty in reconciling. The one is, "The present State debt should not, and I (he) believes will not, be increased." The other that "all our great works must be completed." Now, we ask the Governor, if it really required $7,000,000, to complete a certain line of Railroad, and we get only, about $2,400,000 out of the appropriation made for it, how are the other two thirds of the work to be finished without further appropriations? We base the inquiry on the supposition that the seven millions were necessary, and upon the further supposition that the bonds have been sold at the quoted New York prices, for the last six months. If they have not been thus sold, why collect the special tax to pay the interest on the them? "To increase the debt would be to oppress the people," says the Governor; at the same time "our great work must be completed," while the appropriations made to complete them are cut down two thirds by the depreciation of the bonds. It strikes us as somewhat difficult to reconcile these propositions; but it is not our business to do it; we leave that to His Excellency.

What strikes us is not a little singular in the message is, that, while treating the subject of State debt and finances, the Governor says not one word about the hundred thousand dollars, for the Penitentiary site on Deep River; although the bonds are out somewhere, and the State has realized nothing for them. This is one of the singular omissions of the message we alluded to in the outset. Another very remarkable omission is, that nothing is said of the bogus Chatham Railroad bonds, that were issued in such haste after the passage of the act making the appropriation. These bonds are outstanding against the State, a part of them probably sold, and passed into innocent hands—what course does the Governor recommend in regard to these bonds? Shall the innocent holders of them lose what they paid for them? On the other hand, shall the State pay the interest and, finally the principal of these bogus bonds? We offer no suggestion in solution of this matter; we consider it particularly, the business of those who got into the scrape to get out of it. The people are waiting to see how they will do it.

We shall recur to this subject again hereafter, noting other very singular omissions in the message of His Excellency, as we may have space and time to devote to it.

The Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19th 1869.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock.

A message was received from the House transmitting a Resolution instructing the Public Treasurer to report the amount of Bonds issued to the various Railroad Companies of the State, concerned in.

NOTICE OF BILLS.

By J. A. Hyman (col) of A bill to amend an act to levy a special tax in the County of Warren.

By Mr. Blythe, of a bill to amend the Charter of the Greenville & French Broad Railroad Co.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Mr. Graham, A bill to secure the return to the Public Treasury the Bonds issued to the Chatham Railroad Company declared illegal to the Supreme Court, placed on Calendar.

By Mr. Respass, A bill to repeal an act authorizing the Secretary of State to furnish the County officers with Blank books and other Stationery. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By the same a bill to amend an act to regulate proceedings in the partition and sale of real and personal property. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. Blythe, A bill defining the duties of the County Commissioners in certain cases. Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. Jones of Wake, A bill to repeal Sec. 9 of an act suspending the Code of Civil Procedure in certain cases. Ratified March 22nd, 1869.

By Mr. Respass: A bill to further protect the interest of the State in certain Railroads.

On motion of Mr. Sweet, it was made the special order for Tuesday next.

By Mr. Blythe: A resolution requesting the Representatives of this State in Congress to secure an adequate Pension for the old soldiers of 1812. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

By Mr. Jones, of Wake: A resolution in favor of Mr. Charles Manly. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

A message was received from the House transmitting a bill authorizing the Treasurer to advance per diem and mileage to members. Passed its first reading.

CALENDAR.

Bill to repeal an act concerning fisheries in Carteret county. Passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

Resolution (of Mr. Robbins,) reducing per diem and milage, passed its first reading.

Resolution (of Mr. Graham,) proposing to raise a Committee to investigate and report the amount of bonds issued to the W. N. C. Railroad Company, to whom, how many have been sold and the actual cash value received for them, what amount of said sales has been appropriated to the construction of said Road, whether any of said appropriation has been used for any other purpose, if so, what amount, and for what purpose, also giving Committee power to send for persons and papers, and to employ council.

Mr. Graham, urged the adoption of the resolutions. It was not his purpose in introducing them, to reflect on the officers of that corporation, there were various statements afloat, relating to mismanagement of funds, placed in their hands, he desired an investigation, and he thought the officers of that corporation should demand it.

Mr. Welker, said he was not opposed to the resolution, but would amend it so as to include all the Railroad Companies in the State.

Mr. Jones, of Columbus, could not see the necessity of such investigation. Nor could he see why the W. N. C. R. R. should be singled out among all the rest as a speciality. The object of the whole thing in his opinion, was to stab the Republican party. He was not opposed to an investigation in its proper form, and if the Senator would withdraw his resolution, he would introduce a bill, demanding a full report in each Department, from each corporation in the State, which he thought would meet the case without reflecting on the officers of said corporations, and moved to lay the resolution on the table, subsequently withdrew it.

Mr. Robbins said he would favor the object of the Senator from Guilford, to have a full investigation into the management of all the Roads, but did not see the policy in tacking such an amendment on this resolution, he preferred the resolution should pass separately.

Mr. Welker withdrew his amendment and stated he should introduce a bill to raise Committees of investigation for each Road separately.

Mr. Sweet moved to postpone its further consideration at present and make it the special order for Tuesday next.

Mr. Graham demanded the previous question and called for the Ayes and nayes, which stood as follows.

AYES.—Messrs. Barnes, Beeman, Brogden, Graham, Jones of Mecklenburg, Lindsay, Long, Mason, Melchor, Robbins, Shoffner, and Wilson, 12.

NAYES.—Messrs. Beall, Beasly, Bellamy, Burns, Blythe, Cook, Davis, Etheridge, Epps, (co) Forkner, Galloway, (col) Hyman, Harrington, Hyman (col) Jones of Columbus, Jones of Wake, Lassiter, Martindale, Moore of Cartret, Richardson, Respass, Smith, Stephens, Sweet, Wolfe and Winstead, 27.

The question recurring on Mr. Sweet's motion to postpone its further consideration to Tuesday, was adopted.

Mr. Sweet by leave introduced a resolution requesting the Supreme Court to give their construction of the Constitution in reference to the tenure of office of the present Members of the General Assembly.

Considerable debate sprung upon this resolution.

Messrs. Robbins, Graham and Beall opposed the resolution on the ground that they did not believe the Supreme Court or any other body except the Legislative branch of the Government had anything to do with the question. They hoped the Legislature would not attempt to shrink from their duties and impose it upon others. It was clear to their minds that they had been elected for only two years, and the people that elected them were of the same opinion.

Messrs. Sweet and Lindsay, stated that they were of the opinion that they were elected for two years but preferred a reference of the matter to the Supreme Court to avoid further difficulty.

Mr. Welker said in was his private opinion from his reading of the Constitution that this General Assembly were elected for four years, yet he was willing to abide by the decision of the Supreme Court, and preferred a reference to the Court, thought it would end all further difficulties in the matter.

Mr. Wilson offered a substitute declaring the term of the present General Assembly at an end after the 1st Thursday in August 1870.

Mr. Hayes moved to adjourn which was lost. Ayes 17, nays 21.

Mr. Jones, of Wake, opposed the substitute, and favored the original resolution.

Mr. Bellamy called for the previous question, which was sustained.

The question recurring on the adoption of the substitute it was defeated. Ayes 18, nays 20.

YEAS—Messrs. Barnes, Beall, Beasley, Brogden, Cook, Graham, Jones, of Mecklenburg, Lindsay, Long, Love, Mason, Melchor, Richardson, Respass, Robbins, Shoffner, Winstead and Wilson.

NAYS—Messrs. Beeman, Bellamy, Burns, Blythe, Davis, Etheridge, Epps, Forkner, Harrington, Hyman, Jones, of Columbus, Jones, of Wake, Lassiter, Martindale, Moore, of Yancey, Smith, Stephens, Sweet, Welker and White.

The original resolution was then adopted. Ayes 29, nays 10.

YEAS—Messrs. Beasley, Beeman, Bellamy, Brogden, Burns, Blythe, Davis, Etheridge, Epps, Forkner, Hayes, Harrington, Hyman, Jones, of Columbus, Jones, of Mecklenburg, Jones, of Wake, Lassiter, Lindsay, Long, Mason, Martindale, Moore, of Yancey, Respass, Shoffner, Smith, Stephens, Sweet, Welker, White and Winstead.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnes, Beall, Cook, Graham, Love, Melchor, Richardson, Robbins and Wilson.

Leave of absence was granted to Messrs. Welker, Eaves, Sweet and Legg.

On motion, Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19, 1869.

Mr. Downing asked leave of absence for one week on account of bad health. The leave was granted.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Welch introduced the following resolution.

Resolved by the House of Representatives of North Carolina; 1st, That a Committee of this House, consisting of five members be appointed to investigate and report to this House, at as early a day as possible, concerning alleged frauds in the management of the various Rail Roads to which appropriations were made during the session of 1868 and 69.

Resolved 2nd, That in addition to other investigations said Committee shall especially require, (1) How many bonds were issued to the Roads aforesaid, more especially to the W. N. C. Rail Road, including both divisions of the same, to the W. Rail Road and the Wil. C. R. Rail Road, (2) How many of said bonds have been sold, to whom and for what price, and the disposition of the money received from such sale, (3). Whether any of said bonds have been used for any purpose or purposes whatever not contemplated by the acts authorizing their issue, and if so for what purpose and by whom.

Resolved 3rd. That said Committee shall have power to send for persons and papers, to employ counsel in their investigations and to do all and every other act or acts necessary to a proper discharge of the duties herein enjoined.

Mr. Welch said that grave charges had been made against the men entrusted with the bonds appropriated to Railroads at the last session. These charges were made so boldly and with such persistency that it was high time that some steps should be taken, looking towards an investigation of the matter. He believed that the money given by this Legislature, at its last session, was honestly intended to build up our various works of internal improvements, but it was currently reported that the money was being used for different purposes. He offered this resolution in the best spirit, influenced by no partizan feelings. He did not know the truth of these reports, but thought measures should be taken to ascertain if any ground existed for the charge. The Presidents of the different Railroads, he understood, were very desirous that such investigation should take place. As this was a pressing matter, he would ask a suspension of the rules in order that the resolution should be at once adopted.

Mr. Ingram said he would support this or some such measure, but he had seen a bill drawn that went, in his opinion, much deeper in the matter.

Mr. Sinclair said he would support the resolution but thought it sprung on the House too suddenly, and if the gentleman from Haywood, (Mr. Welch) would withdraw his motion to suspend the rules, he would move to print and lay on the desks of the members.

Mr. Welch consented to withdraw, and the resolution was ordered to be printed.

By Mr. Ragland: A resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill for the relief of the people, taxing executions on old debts. Referred.

By Mr. French: A resolution in favor of Henderson and Ennis. Referred.

By Mr. Malone: A resolution calling a Convention of the people in order to form a new Constitution, the members of which to consist of the same number as the Legislature, and voted for in the same manner, the Governor to issue writs of elections twenty days after the ratification of the resolution.

Mr. French moved to refer to Committee on Propositions and Greivances. Carried.

BILLS.

Harris, of Wake, (colored) a bill to amend sections 57, 58, 59, 60, 61 and 62 of Chapter 270 of the Laws passed in 1868-69.

By Mr. White: A bill to amend the act concerning a Homestead and personal property exemption. Referred.

By Mr. Justice of Rutherford: A bill to authorize the State Treasurer to pay members of the General Assembly per diem and milage under existing laws.

Here a message was announced from the Governor transmitting a communication from the Auditor in reference to the matter. The communication being read, on motion of Mr. Justice, the rules were suspended and the bill passed its several readings.

The resolution reorganizing the Standing Committees, was taken up and adopted.

Harris of Wake, (col) was allowed to withdraw his bill from the Judiciary Committee to whom it had been referred.

Mr. Smith, of Alleghany introduced several bills in reference to a change in the county lines of Surry, Alleghany and Wilkes counties. Referred.

Mr. McCanless: A bill to prevent the felling of trees in the waters of Town Fork. Referred.

By Mr. Vest: A bill to compel Sheriffs to pay over to the Treasurer taxes collected. Referred.

CALENDAR.

The resolution maintaining the honor and good faith of the State, and opposing any further increase of debt. (Published.)

Mr. Malone moved to amend by adding after the word "indebtedness" the words "legally incurred and honestly disposed of as to her bonded debt." So the section would be read as follows:

Resolved, That North Carolina would regard the repudiation of a single dollar of her indebtedness, legally incurred and honestly disposed of as to her bonded debt, as a violation of every principle of plighted faith, and as one of the greatest misfortunes that could befall her people.

Mr. Malone said the reason he introduced the amendment was to prevent the State from being pledged to the payment of debt illegally contracted or in the shape of bonds dishonestly disposed of by the swindling manipulations of the "Ring."

Mr. Ellis offered the following proviso: Provided, That the tax shall in no one year exceed the sum of 66½ cents on the hundred dollars worth of property including all tax for special purposes except as provided in the Constitution, Sec. 4, Art. 5, for special tax after 1880, to raise and set all at a sum as a sinking fund to be devoted to the payment of the public debt and for raising funds for suppressing invasion or insurrection as provided for in Sec. 5, Art. 5 of the Constitution. Provided further, That the bonds issued to the Penitentiary to the amount of $100,000 shall not be included within the meaning of these resolutions.

Mr. Pou offered the following substitute for the whole matter:

Resolved, the Senate concurring, That whereas the Constitution of this State limits the right of taxation for State and county purposes, combined, to the sum of sixty six and two thirds cents on each one hundred dollars of property of every kind, therefore the most rigid and searching economy is necessary in every department of the State government to meet the current expenditures of the same.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the General Assembly that no part of the constitutionally contracted debt of this State, either before or after the rebellion, will ever be repudiated by the people of this State.

Resolved, That should there be a deficiency in the sum of money raised by taxation, necessary to meet the interest on the bonds of the State, preference should be given to the bonds which were in existence at the time of the adoption of the present Constitution.

Mr. Pou proceeded to argue the matter, when he yielded to a motion to postpone the consideration of the question until Monday, 12 o'clock, which was adopted.

A message was received from the Senate informing the House of the passage of a bill to repeal an act concerning fisheries in Carteret county.

Mr Pou's resolution in reference to the removal of political disabilities, imposed by the 14 h amendment, was next taken up.

Mr. Malone moved to amend by instructing our Representatives in Congress to use their influence to have the law, requiring the test oath, repealed.

Mr. Sinclair thought it superfluous, as the removal of disabilities did away with the necessity for the oath.

Mr. Seymour said it amounted to asking Congress to dispense with an oath they required their members to take in order to qualify. He did not think the House could have anything to do with the matter.

Mr. Malone said that he did ask Congress to do away with this oath, and said during his argument:

If members of this Assembly are in favor of the removal of disabilities let them make the movement complete. What objection to removing all disabilities? The test oath act passed by Congress is odious to the people of the nation, it is unconstitutional and inimical to the spirit of our institution and it might well be pronounced an act of party despotism. I am unwilling to see this House make what they can claim as a liberal record and at the same time do nothing for the people proposed to be added. Many of our citizens are under no disabilities, but in consequence of the existence of the laws requiring the test oath could not hold an office under the Federal government. If the Southern people can safely be relieved from the terms of the Howard amendment, why not relieve them from the burdens of this miserable odious and tyrannical test oath; I hope my friends will go all the way in the glorious Christian work of amnesty and freedom, and not do a half way work. We want good faith in this matter, and it is not proper to deceive and further blind the people.

Mr. Ingram favored the resolution but was opposed to the amendment.

Mr. Pou said while the amendment spoke his sentiments, yet he thought it a matter this Legislature had nothing to do with, therefore he could not support it.

On motion of Mr. Sinclair, the matter was postponed until Tuesday 12 o'clock.

The resolution, introduced by Mr. Argo, to compel the return of certain bonds issued to certain Railroad Companies, to the Treasurer, was next discussed.

Mr. Welch offered the following proviso to Section 1:

Provided that the Bonds so returned to the Treasurer shall be retained in the Treasury of the State as a security for the prosecution of the Roads to which they were appropriated, and provided further that whenever the bonds of the State, shall command a price in the markets of the world, approximating the amount on their face, they shall be subject to the order of the Boards of Directors, who control said Roads.

Mr. Downing said this was offered in order to depreciate the credit of the State, therefore he moved the indefinite postponement of the whole matter.

Mr. Argo said that he did not care to discuss the subject of the resolution at this stage of the proceedings but would do so at the proper time. But would go so far as to say that this was intended to get for the people the benefit of the money already appropriated. The policy of throwing bonds into the market at the present ruinous prices was suicidal. He wished to build up the credit of the State and also to relieve the people of some of their present burdens.

After a rousing debate of some length, Mr. Downing consented to withdraw his motion to indefinitely postpone, and the matter was made the special order for Tuesday week at 12 o'clock.

By permission, Mr Justice of Rutherford introduced a bill giving to County Treasurers a compensation of 5 per cent on all monies recieved and paid out. Referred and ordered to be printed.

CALENDAR (CONTINUED)

The resolution to modify existing laws allowing certain officers stationery, was taken up and adopted after some debate.

The resolution reducing the per diem of members to $5, Presiding officers $7, Clerks, Doorkeepers &c. $5, was next discussed.

Mr. Pou moved to indefinetly postpone the matter.

The yeas and nays being called the following ballot resulted,

AYES.—Messrs. Barnes, Carson, Carey, Cawthorn, Cherry, Eagles, Ellington, Forkner, Franklin, Harris, of Franklin, Hayes, Hodgings, Long, of Chatham, Mayo, Morrill, Price, Proctor, Renfrow, Robbins, Sinclair, Sweat, and Wilson.

NAYS.—Messrs. Argo, Armstrong, Ashworth, Banner, Blair, Boddie, Candler, Clayton, Davidson, Durham, Ellis, Farrow, Perebee, Post, Preech, Galagan, Gatling, Gibson, Gilbert, Green, Grier, Harris of Wake, Hawkins, Hendricks, Hicks, Hinnant, Hodgin, Hodnett, Horney, Humphries' Ingram, Jarvis, Justice, of Rutherford, Justus, of Henderson, Kelley, of Davie, Kelley, of Moore, Kinney, Leary, Long, of Richmond, Malone, McCanless, Mendenhall, Moore, of Alamance, Morris, Nicholson, Painter, Parker, Pou, Ragland, Robbison, Reynolds, Seymour, Shaver, Siegrist, Simonds, Smith, of Alleghany, Snipes, Stanton, Stevens, Sykes, Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, White, Whitley, and Williams, of Harnett.

On motion of Harris, of Wake, colored, the resolution was postponed for two weeks.

Mr. Vest moved to go into the election of a Doorkeeper.

Mr. French moved to make the election the special order for to-morrow at 12 o'clock. Lost.

The question recurred upon the motion of Mr. Vest, when,

On motion, the House adjourned.

SALE OF CITY LOTS TO DAY.—Those having capital to invest will remember the auction sale of lots at the Cotton Place to-day. We don't know of anything more likely to prove a profitable investment than the erection of small and comfortable tenement houses for rent. Recently, to our knowlege, there were five or six applications in one day for one small house that was vacated by the tenat. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE.—We are requested to state that persons attending the North Carolina Conference, which begins at Newbern on the 24th inst., will be passed over the different Railroads of the State, going and coming, for one fare only.

N. B. In buying your ticket, be sure to ask for a return ticket, on any Road except the Atlantic and N. C.

The public are informed there will be no Mass to morrow (Sunday) in the Roman Catholic Church. The Church will, however, be opened for prayer and private devotions.

TELEGRAMS THURSDAY.—Thursday being thanksgiving day, there was very little news by telegraph. Public and private business generally, was suspended nearly everywhere. The French government has ordered a vessel to attend the American and English vessels in conveying the remains of Mr. Peabody to this country.—In the investigation case of the Privateer, Hornet, in New York, it was shown that the coal was unfit for use; the testimony vindicates Higgins.

At Wilmington business was generally suspended. About 8,000 people attended the Fair. Pickpockets and sharpers were were busy among the crowd.

THE NEWCOMB MINSTRELS.—This Company closed the second of their exhibitions at Tucker Hall last night, and depart this morning for Charleston, where they appear on Monday night. We have heard many pronounce this to be the best Company of the kind that has appeared in Raleigh for twenty years. That is saying as much for them as need be said, for there have been many very popular companies through here during that time.

THANKSGIVING.—Was observed in this city by services in the Churches, except the Baptist, the pastor of which was absent from the city. In the afternoon some went hunting, some to the Fair Ground to witness the trotting, and some continued business as usual.

THE HORSE FAIR.—The Horse Fair was not as numerously attended on Thursday or Friday as was anticipated, though there was a goodly number on the ground each day.

On Thursday the most noted match was between Paxion's Twist and Capt. Lee's Kate Jackson; best three in five, mile heats for $1,000, which was taken by Twist who won the 1st, 3rd and 4th heats, time 2.45, 2.42½ and 2.39½. The mare won the second heat in 2.43.

The second race between Wynne's b. m. Lady Alice, and Lee's g. g. Sultan, the latter winning, 1.01,1.05.

Third race, half mile for purse of $50, Wynne's Prince, and Christmas' Billy, won by Prince, 1.09, 1.09.

FRIDAY.

Trotting match in harness between Harvey's Fly-away and Paxson's Twist, $500, won by Twist in two straight heats, 2.39½, 2.39½.

2nd. Running match half mile and repeat, for $50, between Wynne's b. h. Billy, and Beaver's b. m. Mollie, won by the latter, Billy flying the track.

To day, Saturday there will be a trotting match for $100 double to harness, free to all; a match of heavy draft, the whole to conclude with a mule race.

During the day there will be an extensive sale of fine blooded horses, buggies, &c., for particulars of which see advertisement in another column.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE CO.—The Wilmington papers announce the prompt payment, by this excellent Company, of the sum of $5,000 to the widow of the late lamented Hon. S J. Person, that being the amount of his insurance in the Brooklyn.—We learn that a Dividend on the Policy, amounting to upwards of $125 was allowed and paid at the same time, notwithstanding the fact that the deceased had not been insured two years.

This is one of those practical facts that speak louder than volumes of mere puffs or idle laudations. People will patronize those Companies, which exhibit liberality, fair dealing and promptness in their business transactions; and the "Brooklyn" in every case that has fallen under our notice, has exhibited all of these commendable features.

Capt. A. W. Lawrence, of this city, is the General Agent of this Company for the State, and we refer the public to his advertisement in the SENTINEL.

Self Advertised.—PHALON'S VITALIA OR SALVATION for the Hair carries with it its own best advertisement. As the light shines through the bottle you see that the liquid is clear as the azure of heaven. You smell it and find the odor agreeable. You apply it and it changes gray hair to any natural shade without soiling the scalp or producing headache. Nothing can be more harmless.

NEW PAPER.—We have received a small sheet, "THE EXPONENT," the official organ of the Catholic Fair, to come off in this city on the 13th of December. It gives all necessary information in regard to donations, manner of conducting the Fair, &c., published by "The Committee of Ways and Means," of the Church.

THE BROKEN HOME.

"TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION."

In San Francisco, on the north side of Folsom street, overlooking Mission Bay, stands a palatial residence.

The interior of this house is even more beautiful than its exterior, every apartment being in its way a gem of magnificence and refinement.

The library especially realizes the most perfect ideal of an elegant and cultured home.

And yet, at the moment we look in upon him—one August afternoon, as he occupied his library—the proprietor of all this wealth appeared of all men the most miserable.

He was Mr. Morton Preble, for many years a leading banker of San Francisco.

It was in vain that the broad bay-window at the south end of the room had been opened, giving ingress to the sunshine and the fragrance of rare flowers—in vain that the walls were lined with richly carved book cases and paintings—in vain that soft couches and luxurious chairs had been gathered around him.

He was wretched.

He lay on a sofa, in the depths of the great bay-window, the wreck of a once powerful man. His figure was thin and gaunt; his face white as marble; his eyes having an expression of woful apprehension, of harrowing anxiety, of dreadful expectancy.

I was evident at a glance that no merely physical ailment had made him what he was.

By what withering secret, by what destroying affliction, had he been thus agonized? thus haunted? thus hunted? he so noble and good! he so wealthy and distinguished!

As he moved restlessly upon his luxurious cushions the pretty clock on the mantelpiece struck five, every stroke seeming to fall like a hammer upon the heart of the nervous invalid. He aroused himself, struggling feebly to a sitting posture.

"Oh, will this fatal day never, never pass!" he murmured; "nor bring us relief!"

Noticing with a nervous start that he was alone, he touched a bell upon a table before him and called:

"Helen, Helen! where are you?"

Before the echoes of his voice had died out a step was heard, and his wife entered his presence.

"I left you only for a moment, Morton," she said, advancing to the banker's side. "You were dozing, I think. I wished to send for the doctor!"

She was a beautiful woman, of some six and thirty years, graced with broad white brown, and loving eyes, in which the brightness and sweetness of a sunshiny nature were still perceptible, under a grief and anxiety no less poignant than that evinced by her husband.

"The doctor!" he echoed, half reproachfully.

"Yes, dear," she said, in a calm and cheerful voice, as she drew a chair to the side of the sofa, and sat down, stroking the corrugated forehead of the invalid with a magnetic touch. "He will be here immediately. Your last nervous crisis alarmed me. You may become seriously ill!"

Mr. Preble bestowed an affectionate look upon his wife, but said despondently:

"The doctor! He cannot 'minister to a mind diseased.' Oh! if these long hours would only pass! If I only knew what the day has yet in store for us!"

"Look up, Morton!" enjoined Mrs. Preble, with a reverently trustful glance upward through the open window at the blue sky, and as if looking beyond the mere clouds therein. "Let us appeal from the injustice and wickedness of earth to the goodness and mercy of Heaven!"

The banker gave a low, sobbing sigh.

"I cannot look up, Helen," he answered, with a passionate tremor in his voice—"only down, down at the grave that is opening before me!"

Mrs. Preble continued to stroke his forehead softly, while she lifted her pale face to the sunlight streaming into the apartment.

"Look up, Morton—always look up!" she again enjoined upon the invalid.—"During all these fourteen years of agony, I have not once doubted the goodness or the justice of Heaven. 'Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted.' I believe that we shall yet rejoice more keenly than we have mourned, and that we shall come to a glorious day of joy beyond all this long night of sorrow!"

The face of the invalid lighted up with an answering glow, and he murmured:

"Glorious faith! My wife, you are indeed a blessed comforter! Perhaps, after all, you are right!"

A knock resounded on a side door at this juncture, and the next moment Dr. Hutton, the family physician, for whom Mrs. Preble had sent, entered the room.

He was an old man, portly in figure, with white hair and beard, but with a fresh and ruddy complexion, a pair of shrewd blue eyes, and with an exuberant boyishness of manner that sat well upon him. He had a kind heart and a clear head. He approached the sofa, after greeting the husband and wife, and lifted the thin restless hand of the invalid, feeling his pulse.

"Quite a high fever," he said, after a brief pause. "Worrying again, eh, Mr. Preble? You are wearing yourself out.—Medicine will do you no good so long as your mind is in its present condition. I must give you an opiate—"

"Not now, doctor," interposed the banker. "I cannot—must not—sleep to-day!—I need to be broad awake now, for I cannot tell at any moment what the next may bring forth. I am looking for the culmination of all my years of anguish—for the crowning agony of the whole. Perhaps even now—Ah, what was that?"

He started up wildly, and then, as the sound that had disturbed him was not repeated, he sank back again on his cushions, pallid and panting.

The doctor looked at Mrs. Preble with an anxious, questioning glance.

"It is the anniversary," she replied to his unspoken inquiry—"the anniversary of our loss."

"Ah, yes," said the doctor. "I remember."

"Yes, it's another of those terrible days," cried the banker, in a hollow whisper.—'Sit down, doctor, and I will tell you the whole story. I can think of nothing else to day, and am almost wild with apprehension and anxiety. Sit down."

Dr. Hutton drew up a chair and seated himself, his face expressing the double solicitude of a friend and physician.

"You know us fourteen years ago, doctor," said Mr. Preble. "We lived then where we do now, in a cottage on the site of this great mansion. There were but the three of us—Helen and I, and our three-year old Jessie. And it was fourteen years ago to day that our little Jessie was stolen from us."

"I remember it," said the doctor softly. "Yet might she not have been lost, Mr. Preble? She went out to play in the garden, if I remember rightly, and was never seen by you again. She might have strayed away—"

"So we thought for a whole year, doctor," interrupted the banker. "We never dreamed that she had been stolen. We searched everywhere for her, and offered immense rewards for her recovery. I employed detectives, but all to no purpose. When our little Jessie ran down the steps into that flower-garden," and he pointed to the front of the house, "as if the earth had opened and swallowed her up, we never saw her again."

"She must have found the gate open, and wandered out," suggested Dr. Hutton. "She might have strolled down to the waters and been drowned."

The banker fixed his burning eyes upon the physician's face, and whispered:

"I said we never saw the poor child again. I did not say we had not heard of her. She was lost on the 9th of August, 1854. For a year we thought her dead. But on the anniversary of our loss we received a written message concerning her."

"A message!" cried Dr. Hutton, starting.

"A mere scrawl—a single line in a hand evidently disguised," said the banker.—"Here it is."

He produced a dingy scrap of paper from a drawer in the table, and held it up to the view of the physician, who read as follows:

"August 9, 1855. Jessie, ha, ha! Jessie."

Dr. Hutton looked, with a puzzled air, from the scrap of paper, which he turned over and over, to the countenance of the banker.

"I can make nothing of this," he declared. "It is merely a date, with the name of your lost daughter. It tells me nothing."

"Nor did it us, at first," said Mr. Preble. "Then that name and that date, with the demon laugh connecting them, set us to thinking. A whole year we agonized over the dreadful problem, and then we received another message, which you shall see."

He thrust a second slip of paper, identical in shape and appearance with the first, before the gaze of Dr. Hutton, who read it aloud:

"August 9, 1856. Your Jessie still lives."

The physician started, as it electrified.

"Ah! this is something definite—something decisive," he muttered. "It convinced you that your daughter was still living."

"Yes, doctor," said Mr. Preble, "and every anniversary of that day has brought us some message. The disappearance of the child, mysterious as it is, that the villain who took her away could contrive to communicate with us every year since, and always on a particular day—the anniversary of that on which she was stolen—without our being able to discover who he is,—And a still greater wonder to me is what can be his motive. It seems incredible.—If it was stated in a novel many people would not believe it. But 'truth is stranger than fiction.'"

Mrs. Preble drew from her husband's breast-pocket his note-book, opened it to the proper page, and presented it to the physician.

Dr. Hutton adjusted his spectacles, glanced over the page, and then slowly read the group of entries aloud. The entry the first year is as follows:

"August 9, 1855. Jessie, ha, ha! Jessie!"

And the next year it is—

"August 9, 1856. Your Jessie still lives!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1857. She is in good hands!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1858. She is well as ever!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1859. I saw her yesterday!"

And the next—

"August 9 1860. She's growing rapidly!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1861. She continues to do well!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1862. I've seen her again!"

And the next—

"August 9,1863. She's becoming a woman!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1864. Your child is thirteen!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1865. She's lovelier than ever!"

And the next—

"August 9, 1866. She's really charming!"

And last year it is—

"August 9, 1867. My reward is at hand!"

And what shall we get to day!

The physician looked up and fixed his thoughtful gaze upon the bereaved husband and wife.

"How did these messages come to you?" he demanded.

"Invariably by post," replied Mr. Preble. "Usually to the house, but sometimes to the office!"

"And you have never seen their author!"

"Never!"

"The last of them is dated, Thee, a year ago to-day!"

"Yes, yes," faltered the banker, "and the time has come for another message." This is the 9th of August, 1868!"

"I see," said Dr. Hutton. "And this is the secret of your terrible excitement! You are expecting to receive to day another of these strange messages."

There was a brief silence. Mrs. Preble's hand fluttered in its task, and her face grew very pale. The banker breathed gaspingly. The physician regarded them both in friendly sympathy.

"We shall hear of her again to day," said Mr. Preble; "and what will the message be?"

The mother averted her face. Her brave heart faltered as that question echoed in her soul.

"The writer of these letters is unquestionably the abductor of your child!" said Dr. Hutton. "Have you any suspicion as to his identity?"

"Not the slightest," said Mr. Preble.—"We have puzzled over the problem for many years, but we cannot guess who he is."

"Think," said the doctor. 'Have you no enemy? I do not mean people with whom you are not friendly—every stirring man has plenty of these—but a downright enemy! Is there no man whom you knew in the East who hated you? No one against whom you were called upon to testify—no one whom you possibly injured?"

The banker shook his head. He had asked himself all these questions respectedly.

"I have no such enemy, doctor," he answered with sincerity of voice and manner.

"And Mrs Preble?" suggested the doctor, turning to her. "Have you no rejected suitor who might be revengeful enough to desolate your home?"

"No," said the lady. "I was married early. Morton was my first lover!"

"This is strange—very strange!" muttered the doctor. "You are not conscious of having an enemy in the world, and yet you have an enemy—a hidden foe—a fiend in human form—who is working out against you a fearful hatred! And you have not the slightest suspicion as to whom he is?"

"Not the slightest," declared the banker.

"Not the slightest!" echoed Mrs. Preble. "My husband had a step brother who might have been capable of this infamy—but he is dead!"

"The handwriting is not familiar?"

"No. It is merely a rude scrawl, as you see," said the banker. "It suggests nothing—except that it is evidently disguised!"

Again there was a profound silence.

"Our child is seventeen years old now," at length murmured Mrs. Preble, her voice trembling. "She is on the threshold of womanhood. No doubt, during all these years, she has yearned for us, wherever she may be, as we have yearned for her!"

"But where is she?" asked the physician—and now his voice was broken by his deep sympathy with the agonized parents. "Where can she be?"

"Heaven only knows," answered the mother. "Perhaps in San Francisco—perhaps in some rude hut in the interior, with some obscure farmer, and under a name that is not hers! I think her abductor would have carried her to some lonely region of the interior, among the valleys and mountains. Yet I never see a young girl in the streets without turning to look at her. I never hear a girlish voice without listening eagerly, half fancying that it may prove the voice of my lost Jessie!"

"Oh, pitying heaven!" sighed Dr. Hutton, dashing a flood of tears from his eyes. "Will this long agony never be over?"

"We hope so, and even believe so," answered Mrs. Preble, with the firmness of an unfaltering trust in God's mercy. "The last message we received from our enemy seems to point to some kind of a change."

"True," assented Dr. Hutton, looking at the message in question. "It is unlike the others. It says that his 'reward is at hand.' He means either that he intends to marry your daughter, or that he intends to demand money of you for bringing her back—or both."

"We shall soon know," said Mrs. Preble, with forced calmness. "To day we shall have another message, no doubt. What will it be?"

The banker turned restlessly on his sofa, and his face grew even paler.

"Whatever it is, let it come!" he murmured.

"Anything can be borne better than this awful suspense. Let it come!"

As if his impatient words had precipitated a crisis, a step was heard on the walk at this moment, and a ring at the front door followed.

"Another message!" breathed the banker.

A servant soon entered, bearing a letter, which he extended to Mr. Preble, saying:

"The bearer is in the hall."

With an eagre gaze, the banker glanced at the superscription of the missive.

"It is from him!" he faltered.

He tore the envelope open.

It contained a slip of paper, of well-known shape and appearence, upon which was scrawled a single line, in an equally well known hand writing, which the banker exhibited to his wife and the physician.

This line was as follows:

"August 9,1868. Mine I still call!"

A shock of wonder and horror shook the three simultaneously.

"Will call!" cried Mr. Preble, starting to his feet, and glaring wildly around.

"Is coming here!" cried Mrs. Preble, also arising.

"It seems so," said Dr. Hutton, his eyes again reverting to the message. "He will be here at six o'clock, and see! it is six already!"

Even as he spoke, the clock on the mantel piece commenced a riking the appointed hour, and at that instant heavy footsteps resounded in the hall, approaching the library.

"It is he!" cried the doctor, also arising.

As the last stroke of the hour resounded, the door leading from the hall again opened.

One long and horrified glance cast the banker and his wife in that direction, and then she fell heavily to the floor.

Her senses had left her. The above we publish as a specimen chapter; but the continuation of this story will be found only in the N. Y Ledger. A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, Free of Charge

Edgecombe Land For Sale.

I DESIRE TO SELL A PORTION OF MY Land in Edgecombe county, situated on the North side of Tar River, half way between Rocky Mount and Tarboro and within six miles of a shipping point on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad.

The tract containing Twenty-six hundred and fifty (2,650) acres. On it there is a comfortable Dwelling House, with eight rooms, all the necessary out houses, two barns, horse stables, Gin house &c., all in good repair.

This is considered one of the best Cotton Farms in the county, and the crop now on it, after such unfavorable seasons is ample proof of its advantages, as to fertility &c.

I propose to sell ONE HALF or thirteen hundred (1300) acres which may be sub-divided into two or more farms, to suit parties wishing to purchase.

Capt. B. B. Guion my Agent will take pleasure in showing the place and giving all information desired. If not disposed of sooner, I will on Monday the 20th of December, next offer it to the highest bidder, on the premises, in tracts of three, four and six hundred acres. I will also sell mules, horses, stock of all kinds, Corn, Cotton Fodder and farming implements.

Terms very liberal, made known on day of sale.

DR. LAWRENCE'S

Highly Concentrated Compound

FLUID EXTRACT OF

Koskoo!

THE GREAT HEALTH RESTORER!

NOT A SECRET QUACK MEDICINE—FORMULA AROUND THE BOTTLE.

Prepared Solely by

J. J. LAWRENCE, M. D.

ORGANIC CHEMIST,

NORFOLK, VIRGINIA.

☞ Beware of Counterfeits. See that Dr. J. J. Lawrence, Chemist, Norfolk, Va., and the word KOSKOO, is BLOWN ON THE GLASS of each bottle. ☜

Koskoo is endorsed by the best physicians everywhere. Read the following from Dr. Tillery, a successful practitioner of many years standing in the Old North State:

Rocky Mount, Edgecombe Co., Sept. 19, 1869.

Dr. J. J. Lawrence—Dear Sir: I have used your Concentrated Fluid Extract of Koskoo in my practice with the happiest results. I find it to be a powerful Liver Invigorator Blood Purifier and Nervous Tonic. In all diseases of the Liver, Scrofulous Syphilitic, Nervous Affections, it is a remedy of immense value; in fact, in almost every variety of Chronic Disease its use is indicated. Hoping you may meet with the success which you deserve as a manufacturer of reliable medicines, I am sir, with much respect, your obedient servant,

H. C. TILLERY, M. D.

From Dr. Fentress, an accomplished and experienced physician.

Princess Anne Court House, Va Sept. 13, 1869.

J. J. Lawrence, M. D.—Dear Sir: I have carefully examined the formula, as well as the Therapeutic properties of your Koskoo compound, and have prescribed it in some stubborn cases of Chronic Liver Affections Dyspepsia, General Debility, &c., and always with the most gratifying results. I fin it to be a splendid Tonic Alterative, and Hepatic combination, accomplishing its constitutional effects without the slightest debility; in fact it gives fine support to the General system while its alternative effects are being produced. I cheerfully recommend its use to the public. Yours, truly;

T. F. FENTRESS, M. D.

Koskoo cures Scrofula in its worst forms. From Mr. A. W. Mills, a prominent and well-known merchant of Norfolk, Va.:

No 11, Main St., Norfolk, Va., Sept. 15, 1869.

Dr. Lawrence—Dear Sir: Your Koskoo has worked wonders in my family. My daughter has been a sufferer from Scrofula since childhood. She lost thirty-one pieces of bone from her ankle, several from her arm, besides having ulcers in several parts of the body. While in this condition she commenced taking your Koskoo—IT ACTED LIKE A CHARM ON HER—UNDER ITS USE THE ULCERS GRADUALLY HEALED, AND HER GENERAL HEALTH GREATLY IMPROVED. It certainly saved her much suffering, and perhaps her life. I regard Koskoo a specific for all scrofulous affections. Your Koskoo also cured my wife of dyspepsia, from which she suffered greatly. SHE IS NOW IN BETTER HEALTH THAN SHE HAS BEEN IN FIVE YEARS.

With the highest regards, I am gratefully yours, &c.,

A. W. MILLS.

Koskoo, the Great Invigorator—Read the following from the Rev. Joseph E. Martin, pastor of Wesley Chapel, Portsmouth Va.:

"This is to certify that myself and wife have used Dr. Lawrence's Koskoo, and can testify to its beneficial effects. Previous to taking it we were in a condition of debilit tion—had no appetite, and suffered from sudden and often violent attacks of headache and nervousness. Two bottles of Koskoo has improved our general health, and we regard it as invaluable, and most cheerfully recommend it to all who have need of an invigorator. Yours, &c.

JOSEPH E. MARTIN.

KOSKOO!

CURES CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

Norfolk, Virginia, September 7, 1869.

Dr J. J. Lawrence—Dear Sir; My son has received so much benefit from your wonderful Koskoo that I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude. I had tried almost everything without benefit. I believe, in all sincerity, that your Koskoo is an Infallible Remedy for the disease from which he has suffered, and, so far as I can learn, has never failed. If you only knew the immense amount of suffering that he has undergone, then you could conceive the value of such a remedy as Koskoo—THAT SURELY CURES. The great amount of good it is now doing among us is inestimable.

With much gratitude, I am respectfully yours, &c., MRS M. E. A. NELSON.

Dr. Lawrence—Dear Sir: Having been treated by several skilful physicians for Dyspepsia Chronic Disease of Kidneys General Debility, &c., without benefit, as a last resort I commenced the use of your Koskoo, and am pleased to say that under its use my health has been entirely restored

I am, sir, with much respect your obedient servant, O. B MEARS.

No. 5 Market St., Norfolk, Va., July 6, 1869.

Pactlo, Franklin Co., N. C., Sept. 11, 1869.

This is to certify that for a long time I suffered very much from inaction of the liver and constipation of the bowels and tried several remedies, but received no benefit until I commenced taking Koskoo. I took the medicine about one month, and I was completely cured and have remained well. I know of several cures made by Koskoo, and can cordially recommend it as a good medicine. JOHN H. BAKER

From Mr. Womble, a prominent hardware merchant of Norfolk:

No 13 Market Square,
Norfolk, Va., Oct. 25, 1869

Dr. Lawrence.—Dear Sir: To the large number of testimonials which you offer of the great efficacy of your Koskoo, I take pleasure in adding my own. I suffered greatly with Nervous Debility, Headache, Loss of Appetite, &c. Two bottles of Koskoo restored me to health.

Yours, truly,

J. G. WOMBLE.

From Rev. W. H. Christian, Pastor Dinwiddie Street Methodist Church:

Portsmouth, Va., October 25, 1869.

This is to certify that I know Dr. Lawrence well. He is a gentleman of cultivation, and worthy the fullest confidence. I have used his "Koskoo" with advantage to myself, and have adopted its use in my family in cases of nervous debility and depression.

THE UTLEY

COTTON PRESS.

A NEW combination of power, whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this PRESS astonishes all who see it, and the more so that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. With this Press, two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale inside of eight minutes: and it can be readily taken down and transported, as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered to the Planter. Will send circulars to any desiring, and we would advise all persons wanting presses to withhold buying until they examine this.

THE PRESSES are now being manufactured at the SASH AND BLIND FACTORY OF THOS H. BRIGGS. All are assured that as between this and any other there is no argument as to its merits over all others. With the irons, any ordinary workman can put them up. The patentee is here for a few days, and will take pleasure in explaining its merits.

AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

ALL THE SURPLUS OF THE COMPANY DIVIDED AMONG THE ASSURED.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED AND PAID ANNUALLY ON THE CONTRIBUTION PLAN.

ALL POLICIES (AFTER TWO FULL PAYMENTS) NON-FORFEITABLE, AND SO EXPRESSED ON EACH POLICY.

No Restrictions as to Residence and Travel in the United States,

RATES LOWER THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY THAT PAYS DIVIDENDS TO POLICY-HOLDERS.

IT ISSUES ALL THE VARIOUS FORMS OF LIFE AND ENDOWMENT POLICIES.

LOSSES PAID PROMPTLY IN CASH.

LIST OF LOSSES ACTUALLY PAID BY THE ÆTNA LIFE INS. CO., AT THE BRANCH OFFICE, IN RALEIGH, BY THE HANDS OF W. H. CROW, GENERAL MANAGER OF THE STATE AND PART OF VA.

"	22,304	15,00

And $5,000 ready to pay a loss of No. 34,161, so soon as the party authorized to receive the money appears.

The Company has been well tested throughout the State, as to its promptness in paying her losses, reliability, &c.

DIVIDENDS PAID AT THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR, AND ANNUALLY THEREAFTER.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

EXPENSE ON THE $100 RECEIVED.

Knickerbocker,	$16,34
Equitable,	17,45
North America,	21,38
Brooklyn,	21,09
Universal,	27,29
John Hancock,	18,27
The National,	63,46
The Ætna,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.

Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.

It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It insured more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.

See what the HIGHEST INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fullness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the ÆTNA LIFE, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its formation."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only 589 policies, received an income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed net assets summing up to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1868, it granted 13,337 new policies, more than any other Company except the Mutual life; received an income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. And this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."
